Travis County Clerk's Office Launches New Deed Records/Official Public Records System

This morning, Travis County Clerk Dana DeBeauvoir's office launched the new Deed Records and Official Public Records System for Travis County, Aumentum Recorder, provided by Thomson Reuters.

"Our goal is to provide excellent service to our community, and today's change does just that. I am proud of my staff and the work that they have done in acquiring and implementing a system that will enhance our customers' experience," said DeBeauvoir.

Aumentum Recorder replaces Anthem Recorder (also a Thomson Reuters product), which was first used in Travis County in 1999. This system contains real property records, marriage licenses, and public meeting notices for Travis County.

With the change to Aumentum, the Clerk's Office will be able to offer several new features. These include:

- Instant return (where you can receive your official recorded document on the day you bring it to the office)
- Fillable applications for marriage licenses and certain business transactions (so you can prepare your application at home and reduce your wait-time in the office), and
- A more user-friendly public search system.

The Travis County Clerk serves as recorder of deeds and land records, and Clerk of Travis County Courts at Law and the Statutory Probate Court. Her office also issues marriage licenses, registers cattle brands, and administers elections in Travis County.
